

Goat Project
Atehuecía, Ahuachapan, El Salvador
June 2016
Otra Fe (Food Security Project)

Dear Friends,

It is always a pleasure to share with you the news of the progress of the goat project in the community of Atehuecía, El Salvador.

The project is growing little by little and now there are 10 families participating. Last month, the newest member of the group, Xinia de Cataneda from Atehuecía was given a baby goat.

Since we are in the rainy season, there is more food for the goats and of course the production of milk has improved. All of the goats are healthy and they are happier.

Here are some recent pictures.

This is Pedro Salinas. His family is one of the newest families to join the group. He wants to personally thank you for your support in their receiving a goat to improve their help. He lives in Atehuecía.

The top picture is Chula, property of Julio Quevedo. She is expecting her second baby in September.

The second picture is of Josué Mendoz who is very happy because his two goats also are expecting to give birth in September.

Here you see Walter Castaneda; husband of Xinia de Castaneda who received the baby goat. This goat is the daughter of Morita, owned by Ana Rosa Campos.

As you can see, the goats are enjoying the abundant food available and their small enclosures protect them from the rain. These are Josué Mendoza's two goats that are expecting babies in September.

Here is Katherine and Abigail, the daughters of Ana Rosa Campos with their goat Morita. The greenness of the countryside is good news for the families and the goats.

Luis Otoniel Pleites Morán
Agriculture Engineer
OTRA FE, El Salvador